HEALTH & SAFETY COMMERCIAL COURSES

We pride ourselves on providing high quality, engaging and informative health and safety courses that serve both businesses and individuals.

Our courses range from the NEBOSH National General Certificate in occupational health and safety, to a full suite of first aid, fire and general health and safety courses. We work with three awarding bodies to ensure we can provide a broad range of courses relevant to most industries, while using up to date experience to make the courses informative and relatable.

As well as accredited courses through our awarding bodies, we can also work with a business to create bespoke training to meet your individual needs.

We work with a variety of employer's including contractors from HPC, Somerset Council, and Somerset NHS foundation trust.
